Defense Chief Admits Blunder On Moon Rocket

By CHARLES CORDROY
United Press International

WASHINGTON UPI — The Defense Department and Air Force admitted today they committed what was probably a historic blunder Saturday when they announced that the "Pioneer" moon rocket had escaped the pull of earth's gravity.

About 90 minutes after the rocket was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and when it was some 20,000 miles above the earth's surface, a previously prepared press release was issued proudly asserting that the lunar probe rocket was "the first man-made object known to escape the earth's gravitational influence. It was no such thing. And officials acknowledged today it was never intended to escape from earth since it headed for the moon which itself is within the earth's gravitational influence.

The blunder was a sample of difficulties encountered in handling the sensational rocket launching. Some reporters and sev-

Prentice Lassiter Is Named To Head High School Faculty Club

The Murray Faculty Club met last week in the Recreation Room of the Austin School. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. W. B. Moser. Officers for the year were elected. Prentice Lassiter, Director of Pupil Personnel, was elected President.

Mr. Lassiter, who is a member of the Murray Faculty Club, is an affiliate of the Kentucky Educational Association and the National Educational Association. The objectives and purposes are:

To give added strength and support to the State and National Associations.

To bring teachers into a sympathetic co-operation by promoting organization and establishing high standards of professional ethics, ideals and loyalty.

To work for improved educational opportunities for the children.

To maintain high professional standards and strive constantly for high and well-rounded qualifications.

Superintendent W. Z. Carter talked briefly on the proposed K. E. A. program and the educational outlook in Kentucky. He said, if we are to have the type of education our children are entitled to, we must have the united support of school people, the parents, and every man and woman in our community. The children of to-day should be trained so they will be well prepared to meet the challenge that lies ahead.

The club meets once each month with a program that is of a constructive nature.

Detroit Quadruplets Are Doing Well

DETROIT (UPI) — "Two doctors came down the stairs and told me my wife had given birth to four daughters, and that's about it," Charles Ullman said today.

"We're mighty happy about it. No, none of the milk companies or other firms have offered any help as yet."

"Baby clothes? Oh, well, I guess we'll use the other kids' hand-me-downs."

Charles Ullman, a carpenter for a Detroit contracting firm, had a lot of figuring to do today — like how to clothe and feed the four daughters his 33-year-old wife, Julia, presented him Sunday night.

The little girls rested in their incubators today: 17-inch Helen, 4 pounds and 2 ounces; 18-inch Martha, 4 pounds, 2½ ounces; 18-inch Marion, 4 pounds and 10 ounces; and 17-inch Catherine, 4 pounds.

Doctors said the healthy girls would remain in the incubators until their weight exceeds five pounds, between two and three weeks.

Ullman, 34, has two other children — Charles, 2½, and one-year-old Louise — and he admitted his five-room, one-floor ranch house in suburban Clawson would be "a little crowded."

Chandler-Waterfield Administration Has Not Changed, Combs

Benton, Ky., Oct. 13 — "The Chandler-Waterfield administration has not changed its calmed, hardened attitude toward the people of Kentucky since the day it took office," Bert Combs said here today.

He said the latest outburst of the administration was reported in newspaper stories Sunday when Governor Chandler dismissed complaints over the construction of the Frankfort-Versailles highway with a "Let 'em Yap" reply to his critics.

(The five million dollar highway between the state capital and Chandler's home town has become a political issue in the gubernatorial primary.)

"No one is surprised at that outburst," Combs said, "every farmer in the state recalls Chandler's orders to farm leaders to leave the state capital and mind their own business."

He also charged that Chandler once said that he had no use for these people who complain about taxes.

"Chandler and his Candidate, Waterfield," Combs said, "have displayed from the very first day they took office that they have no concern, except at election time, for the welfare or desires of the people of Kentucky."

He compared the administration's attitude with that of Marie Antoinette who said that the people could eat cake when they cried out for bread.

"We, too, have a Monarchy in Kentucky. A regime which believes that the Kings can do no wrong," the candidate told local party leaders.

"Under my administration," Combs said, "there will be a spirit of friendship and cooperation between state officials and the people. It is only through such a spirit that Kentucky can assume her proper place in the nation's economy."

Combs campaigns Tuesday in Murray and Calloway county.

Housing Commission Meets In Third Session Here Last Night

The Murray Housing Commission will apply for 100 low rental housing units for the city of Murray, according to a report from a meeting held last night by the commission.

The low rental units will be a combination housing project and slum clearance project, the commission said.

In the meeting, last night the commission discussed a recent trip which the members made to Clarksville, Tennessee where 300 low rental housing units are in operation. Clarksville is applying for 70 more units to be added to the present project.

L. D. Miller, member of the commission said that they were shown over the project by members of the Clarksville commission and acquainted with all particulars concerning the obtaining and operation of such a project.

Mr. Rose of the Federal Housing Authority, Atlanta, Georgia, will be in Murray today to go over the plans of the commission. He will be asked for a survey of the Murray project and an application will be made for the 100 low rental housing units at that time.

Before Murray can qualify for the housing units, the city must adopt a building code, plumbing code, electrical code and zoning ordinance. The city already has a natural gas code which is in effect.

The zoning ordinance is almost ready for passage by the city council. The other codes will be prepared according to the Murray Planning Commission for submission to the council.

The Murray Housing Commission is composed of two representatives from the city and two from the county.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The common people heard him gladly.
Mark 12:37.

The upper strata of society is conservative. Religion is desperately needed in homes of wealth and distinction. The cocktail hour is a poor substitute for worship. Youth from wealthy families too often seek injurious stimulation.

Army Replaces Auburn In Top Position And Oklahoma Drop Out

ARMY HALTS NOTRE DAME — Pete Hawkins (24) Army back, is thrown to the ground after a four-yard gain by Myron Potties (75), Don Lawrence (72), and Norman Odumlee (18) of Notre Dame in the first quarter of their game at Notre Dame, Ind. The Army managed to win the traditionally hard-fought battle, 14-10, before a crowd of more than 58,000.

a score of 14-0.

Gene Cathey To Floor A Tall Squad On Friday 17th

Round ball, Calloway County's greatest sport both from the standpoint of populace following and team participation will be ushered in Friday night when the champion New Concord Redbirds take to the home hardwood in their traditional opener with Buchanan Tennessee. Game time is 7:30.

Coach Gene Cathey will again be piloting the Redbirds to what he hopes will be an even more successful year than last when the tailsters flew by opponent after opponent to post a much respected 24-7 record. All of the seven defeats were at the hands of squads outside the county.
The Redbirds met all of the Calloway teams at least twice and was victorious in every clash always heading the Calloway standings with a perfect 1.000.

The success of the New Concord team last year was due at least in part to their towering height which had a starting lineup with a 6'2 average. Coach Cathey has given no indication of his starting line-up this season but judging from last season's play he has a potential starting five with a height average of 6'2 plus. The tallest men on the probable starting quintet will be Eugene Rowland and Joe Green both of whom scale in at 6'4
if the rival basketball coaches are wondering just when this height string will reach its end and the New Concord players will be more near the level of their rival counties, they have a long time to wait for the roster lists a 6'5 Sophomore, Wayne Mathis. This is not the first Mathis to don the red Jersey of the New Concord School. A brother of Wayne, F.B. Gene "Speedy" Mathis will still be remembered by Calloway fans as the towering dunker that led the Redbirds to many a cage victory and prize for their growing trophy case.

This will be Coach Gene Cathey's
second year at New Concord since his hitch with Ucie
Sam. In his first year back,
Cathey returned the Calloway Championship to the halls of the Redbird den after a brief one year stay in the Wildcat lair at Lynn Grove. During the 56-57 season the Lynn Grove squad thrashed the Redbirds at every opportunity throughout the season and snatched their crown of glory, the county championship.
But late in the season New Concord tasted a measure of revenge slipping past the Wildcats 73-71 in a double overtime
District tournament victory.

That victory must have been an inspiration to the Redbirds for they moved into the victor's rank with the opening game last year and the slaughter was on. The Redbirds took the county tourney with a 59-41 win over Almo and a 61-52 triumph over the Kirksby Eagles who at that time were making their first gallant bid for something better than the cellar.
The county leaders faltered quickly though in the District Four tourney, bowing to the Benton Indians 65-33, at an opening 71-51 win over Murray Training school.

At least three of the first five will be back in uniform this season as Eugene Rowland, Joe night the Calloway team will be idle until November 1st when the squad travels to Nashville to clash with the David Lipscomb High School Mustangs. A complete schedule will be run at a later date.

THE GOODWILL AMBASSADOR WHO NEVER LEAVES TOWN!

Public servant—diplomat—goodwill ambassador. Call me what you will, my job is to serve you—and everyone who drives into my station—the best way I know how.
To you, my neighbors, I'm a local businessman who supplies you with the finest products the petroleum industry can produce.
To out-of-towners, I'm an information bureau, traffic guide and booster of our community.
Making friends for our town is part of my job as a good citizen.
As a good businessman, I'd like to make friends with your car by giving it the kind of service I'd give my own. Why not drive into my station this week—Oil Progress Week—and let me show you why with today's gasoline you're driving a bargain.

Whatever Happened To JOCK HUTCHISON SR.

United Press International
Jack Hutchison was one of the great names in golf for more than 40 years. His greatest triumphs came in the early 1920's but he was a familiar figure for decades at all major tournaments, and his wit was respected as completely as his golf. Jack won the national PGA title in 1920 and followed the next year by winning the British Open. He never won the U.S. Open title and thus each year had to play in qualifying trials for the annual championship. He usually qualified even when he was past 60.
Whatever happened to Jack Hutchison? Now 64, he is living in retirement at the Glen View Club, Golf, Ill.

LONDON (UPI) — Zora Polley,
top American contender, will try to stop the European heavyweight boom tonight in a 162-pound fight with slugger Henry Cooper of England. Polley of Chandler, Ariz., is favored at 2-1 to beat Cooper before a sellout crowd of 10,000 at Empire Pool.
Cooper, 24, is expected to go all-out for a kayo tonight since he believes an impressive victory will earn a title shot. He is very

New Trend In Suicide Says Japanese Doc

TOYKO (UPI)—Modern technology is turning suicide into a drum-drum, un-romantic business, according to Japanese doctors.

A decade ago, at least one in every three Japanese suicides hanged himself or threw himself from a rocky promontory into the sea.

But nowadays, according to the metropolitan medical examiner's office, only one out of every eight suicides disposes of himself so dramatically.

The office said more matter-of-fact methods—such as sleeping pills and gas poisoning—are on the rise. During 1957, a total of 1,923 suicides came to the office's attention. Of these, 733 took sleeping pills—or 38.1 per cent compared with a mere 9.1 per cent a decade ago. Only 196 hanged themselves.

WRONG PARTY
MEMPHIS, Ten. (UPI)—Mrs. E. G. Geater took pictures of her two-year old son's birthday party, then sent them off by mail to be developed. The roll of film got lost, and Mrs. Geater asked the post office to trace it. The post office reported it had an unclaimed roll that "could" be hers. Only way to tell was to develop it. The pictures were of a birthday party, but the party was for twin four-year old girls.

Various Kinds Of Drinkers Are Defined

Allison C. Brown, executive director of the Argansas Commission on Alcoholism, has published "Answers to Pertinent Questions on Alcoholism." Of particular interest are his answers to "What is the difference between social drinkers, drunkards, problem drinkers, and alcoholics?"

The social drinker is one to whom a drink is just that—a social gesture. To many it is just another condiment to be taken with food, as some use tomato catsup. (This is particularly true of Italians and wine) To some social (or controlled) drinkers, a highball after work hours is a tension breaker, a method of relaxing. The social drinker may, on rare occasions, drink too much. To most social drinkers intoxication is meaningless and obnoxious.

Drunkards are gluttons for alcohol. They like the taste as well as the effect. Intoxication is just another phase of life to them. Drinking is their pleasure, they have no regard for the feelings of others, the unhappiness caused families by their actions. Their desire is not comparable to the compulsion of the alcoholic. If for health or other reasons, they can curb their appetites, quit drinking.

The problem drinker is a potential alcoholic. Problem drinkers may or may not like the taste of alcoholic beverages. Alcohol in his system does something for him it does not do for most people. In spite of research, there is no known reason why this is true, but it has been definitely proved that the problem drinker reacts differently to alcohol, than the social drinker or the drunkard. Problem drinkers develop a compulsion for more and more alcohol after taking the first drink. They have control over whether or not they take the first drink, but after one they must have more.

The alcoholic is that man or woman who has lost the power of choice where alcohol is concerned. He or she must drink, even though they do not want to. Compulsive drinking is the mark of the true alcoholic. Alcohol means more to him than anything on earth. A recovered minister made the statement that alcohol came to mean more to him than did God. The alcoholic, almost without exception, cannot recover without help.

Help is available. A total of 200,000 alcoholics have achieved sobriety through Alcoholics Anonymous. Thousands of others have been helped by physicians, psychotherapy, treatment programs.

WE'RE A LITTLE LATE, SO GOOD NIGHT FOLKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Because an overtime tennis match forced a delay in the starting time of a western movie being shown on a New York T V station, the film was suddenly hailed as a posse was thundering across the plains on a special mission. But the announcer assured viewers that "everything turned out all right."

THE TOP OF DAD'S at-home desk holds only essentials—a lamp, a handsome onyx set that keeps two pens ready for use, a weight for important papers and a large man-size ash tray.

Desk Work

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

DESK work isn't limited to an office. A great deal of it goes on at home. Where do the kids pursue studies? Where does Pop go over business reports? Where should Mom keep household files and check bills? At a desk!

All Can Share
All family members can share the same desk, providing it's in a room where peace and quiet are guaranteed when work's being done. If there's space, each one can have a desk of his own—it's the best plan of all, sure to keep everyone happy.

In Dad's Den
Dad's desk should be in his den or study, away from household hubbub. For efficiency, it should be roomy, boast a good deal of drawer space for very important papers and records. The desk top must be kept clear of all save essentials: a lamp to throw light on the business at hand, a paperweight, a desk pen—one handsome set with an onyx base holds two pens ready for use.

Decorative Desk for living room is a dark walnut that provides pleasing contrast to beige crimped rayon carpet. clear of all save essentials: a lamp to throw light on the business at hand, a paperweight, a desk pen—one handsome set with an onyx base holds two pens ready for use.

As for decoration, if it's Dad's den, key the scheme to his hobby or pick out pictures and accessories that show his favorite sport—sailing, horseback riding, boxing.

Proper Lighting
Check lighting. Avoid glare or dimness. Wall lamps keep the desk top free of clutter and provide proper illumination, providing they're placed about 30 inches apart and that the shade bottoms are about 15 inches from the desk top. Use 100-watt bulbs set in diffusing bowls and soft translucent shades. Extension handles—many wall lamps have them—enable lamps to be moved around to throw light where it's needed.

Straight-Back Chair
A good desk chair—one with a straight back—provides comfort and encourages good posture. Since Mom has the house to herself during the day, her desk needn't be so secluded. If there's room, she'll find it handy to set up a desk in the kitchen. She can also have her desk in the living room, where it doubles as a piece of furniture, can be used as a sort of serving table when buffet entertaining's the social set-up.

WALL LAMPS leave a homework desk free to hold a portable typewriter that's a big help in writing school reports.

NEW LINEN, APRONS CAN BE THROWN OUT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Aprons and tablecovers which can be used until soiled and then thrown away now are on the market. Made of a cloth-like material called "dura-weave," the products are sold through supermarkets, variety, drug and department stores. One set includes "His" and "Her" barbecue aprons with matching tablecloth. The material looks and feels like cloth, but actually is paper, with an "inner-lining" of rayon thread. Embossed gaudy printing give it the look of a loomed fabric. (Scott Paper Co., Chester, Pa.)

SHERLOCK HOLMES inspired this barrel cape of all-wool exaggerated plaid. The startling new shape is achieved by billowing soft wool from a narrow neckline yoke and soft shoulder line into a tight band at the knee. Buttons accent the slimmess.

Plymouth Adds New Line of Luxury Cars

Plymouth's new line of luxury cars, the Sport Fury models, will be shown to the public for the first time October 16 in dealer showrooms throughout the country. This new Sport Fury 2-door hardtop has styling innovations from the massive front bumper and the smart grille all the way to the new, outward-canted tail fins. The new compound windshield curves into the roof as well as wrapping around the sides. The Sport Fury models introduce to the low-price field swivel front seats as standard equipment. Swivel seats are optional on four other models. All Plymouth models have improvements which reduce operating costs and at the same time improve performance.

TO HANG, 35 YEARS AFTER—Guido Grassi, 78, walks down-cast to his cell in Montezano, Wash., under sentence to hang Dec. 5 for killing three men 35 years ago. All those years Grassi has been in prison, his execution stayed on insanity grounds. Now he has been found sane, so Judge Warner Poyhonen had to sentence him to death. Grassi hopes Gov. Albert Rosellini will pardon him so he can return to Italy.

BARKING DOGS

FERGUSFALLS, Minn.—(UPI)—If you believe its constitution, the Anti-Horse Thief Association, formed there in 1872 was a band of blood-thirsty vigilantes. The charter says "if shall be the sworn duty of any and all members of this society," having nabbed a horse thief, by hanging, or in the absence of facilities for hanging "by shooting."

But the Minnesota Historical Society said the association was little more than a social club and that horse thieves really had little to fear from its members.

Gale Storm Old Salt, But Gets Sick

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gale Storm, an old salt in her TV series, is a landlubber who had to fight off seasickness when she boarded a ship for the first time in her life this week.

The flighty star sailed from San Francisco to Los Angeles aboard the luxury liner S.S. Wilson, creating as much confusion as she does weekly aboard the ocean queen in CBS-TV's "Oh, Susanna!"

Immediately upon arrival, Gale was taken to the bridge to meet Capt. J. D. Cox, who resembles the late Wallace Beery.

"Where's the bridge? Gale wanted to know.

"You're standing on it," Capt. Cox assured the actress before taking her into the wheel house.

"How cute," Gale bubbled. "There's the steering wheel."

The captain blanched and pointed out the radar scope, which "What do you think of that?" Capt. Cox asked.

Mascara Run

Peering into the glass, Gale pulled a real Susanna Pomeroy (the character she portrays on the show), "My mascara is running," she observed.

Returning to the windy deck, Gale jumped a foot in the air when the ship's horn loosed an ear-splitting blast.

"Stop the boat," she hollared. "I've got to go back for my eyelashes."

Capt. Cox, shaken, returned to his duties while Gale and her family—husband Lee Bonnell, sons Phil, 15; Peter, 12; Paul, 11, and daughter Suzie, 2—toured the American President Lines' flagship, Passenger, excitedly seeing the TV social director neck-wrenching double takes at come to life.

But Gale would never make an ocean-going hostess. She fell down playing deck tennis and banged her toe in a shuffleboard game with son Phil.

She eyed the ship's swimming pool and quipped, "It's not very big, but it's 70 feet deep." She moved to leave when an eager passenger wrapped a ship's life ring around her neck, pushed his two children in front of her and snapped a picture.

By this time the vessel had passed through the Golden Gate and slowed to a stop. A pilot boat's siren wailed across the ocean.

"Oh, oh," Gale fretted, "we've been pinched. I knew we were speeding."

The actress was assured the ship had stopped only to drop the pilot.

"Drop the pilot!" Gale said, showing signs of panic. "Who's going to fly this thing? And how far are they going to drop the poor man?"

The horn blasted again and Gale scurried for her stateroom, accompanied by her clan. Safely below decks, she was introduced to Peggy Shaw, a real life social director for the steamship lines.

"I love your show," Miss Shaw said cordially.

"Thank you," Gale returned, "but my heart really bleeds for you."

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: A lady with a long Army background is getting considerable mileage in these parts with a hilarious story of a young Army captain of several seasons back.

The background of her tale is this:

For years, Army officers and their wives, living in the relative social confinement of military posts, see an awful lot of each other. Because their at-home parties have such a similarity. Each couple goes in for certain stunts or party games to liven up the proceedings.

The lady in question says she never knew in all her long years of Army life a young officer who could put such zing into an otherwise hum-drum affair as her friend.

The captain and his vicious young wife would go to a home party on an Army post and after dinner someone invariably put the personable officer up to one of his more spectacular tricks.

He would stand in the center of the living room floor, freeze his body into muscular rigidity, then slam like a fallen tree to the floor. A split second before hitting the rug, however his hands would flash out suddenly to break his fall, but this did not keep the ladies from gasping in horror.

Sometimes, the young captain would pull his stunt four and five times during the evening. There were times, too, when his hands weren't quite quick enough he'd knock himself woozy. The celebrants would haul him into a chair, bathe his face and then stand back in admiration for his derring-do.

His name? The lady says it was Capt. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The captain has come a long way. It is better than an even bet he wasn't playing parlor games at the White House last Monday night when he was host at a secret stag dinner.

An effort to identify them ran into a wall of silence. It was the President's private affair. With upland the Republican National Committee, grumbling about the volume of cash contributions, it is quite conceivable the President was entertaining for some of his better-heeled Republican friends.

The National Press Club has a new book coming out in November, a history of 50 years as the headquarters for some of the world's leading news gatherers. The volume, titled "Sardis" after a member of the club—except Eisenhower.

President Coolidge laid the cornerstone to the present club building, and President Wilson once confessed at the club to one of the major frustrations of the White House—as president, he could not satisfy his secret urge to chase fire engines.

Swivel Front Seats on 1959 Plymouth

A major development in automobile seating arrangements is the introduction of swivel front seats in the 1959 Plymouth. Driver and front seat passenger can now pivot the seats outward when entering or leaving the car. Each seat pivots independently of the other. The seats swivel when a lever is lifted in the seat shield, releasing a spring which swings the seat outward on rollers a full 40 degrees. The seats automatically lock in place when returned to normal position. An arm rest between the driver and front seat passenger may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the front seat.

"One Summer of Happiness"

SEE IT FROM THE BEGINNING!

— A MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGER —

The above picture, "One Summer of Happiness," is booked for our theatre for tonight, Wednesday and Thursday. The picture was made in Germany and does not have English dialogue but has English subtitles. After long consideration, we have decided to bring you this most controversial picture of our time. Never before has the motion picture industry faced the task of bringing such a revealing, tender love story to the screen and at the same time stay within the bounds of censorship. We believe the merits of the story, the inspired acting and the photography compensate for the necessarily revealing character of some of the scenes. This picture has been a subject of much comment wherever it has been shown. Some of the scenes are objectionable to some, but each and every one is not easy to make it the world prize winner that it is. The merit of the picture must not be judged on these few scenes alone as the cheap and narrow minded will undoubtedly do. It is a tender, realistically filmed love story and must be judged with this in mind. Due to the delicate theme of this picture the admissions will be limited strictly to adults.

SEIZED IN VICE RAID—Mrs. Beatrice Garfield, 27, plays peek-a-boo with photographers after her arrest in New York. She and four other young women, including a high school teacher, were arrested on charges of working for a $50,000-a-month "call girl" ring. They were all held in bail pending hearings.

THE HETZHUDE (H' UND DOG) GIVES A WAVE—Elvis Presley gives a wave to admiring teenagers from train window in Bremerhaven, Germany, en route to Frankfurt.

FORMOSA ADDITIVE—High altitude B-57 jet bombers like this have been added to U.S. striking power in Formosa area.
